PRIVACY POLICY

Limelight Nutrition is committed to maintaining the trust and confidence of visitors to the website limelightnutrition.com. It is especially important that you know we never sell, rent or trade email lists with any other companies or businesses for marketing purposes. This privacy policy is composed to give you detailed information on how we secure information, what happens to your personal information and how we may use it under limited conditions to give to others.

Your Information

We use your personal data (email address):

- to provide services to you
- to enable us to manage our interactions with you
- to verify your identity
- for crime or fraud prevention
- where we have a legal right or duty to use or disclose your information (e.g. in relation to an investigation by a public authority or in a legal dispute)

Security

Limelight Nutrition may opt to use paypal on our website. If you choose this option we can see your paypal email address as proof that you have paid. We do not add your email address to our mailing list for any purpose other than to correspond in relation to the particular service paid for.

Our website is protected with a secure certificate. Our database and website are protected by secure passwords and we have, to the best of our ability, secured our site against any attempts of malicious attack.

We DO NOT store online

- any other personal information about you
- any health advice or emails we receive or send you via email or questionnaire
- any information you disclose to Limelight Nutrition
- any personal information outside of your email address, is not stored online by us

Emails you send to Limelight Nutrition are stored securely in an email account on a laptop that only Anne O'Sullivan uses for work purposes. No unauthorised person has access to this information. This information is not shared with anyone without a client's direct request.
